How would you describe yourself?

I know some people think I'm a bit over-the-top, but I like to think I'm just being true to myself. I'm an extrovert and I love diving into whatever life throws at me. I hope I'm a good friend – you'd have to ask Rom whether I am or not! I'd say I'm a happy person, by and large and I love nothing better than having a good laugh. I look for unusual, out-of-the-ordinary things, especially clothes. That's why my bank manager despairs of me – but life's too short to worry about saving, right?

What would be your dream gig?

Somewhere crazy like the Hollywood Bowl. Where the greats have played. It would be unbelievably cool to stand on the stage where Sinatra, The Beatles and Hendrix have performed and be able to say 'I'm playing here tonight'.

What do you think about Romily's quest?

I'll be honest with you, when she first mentioned it I thought she was a loon. But then it's just Rom all over – that unshakeable belief in the possible that never fades. Now I'm all for it – I mean, I saw the look in her eyes when she was telling me about the mystery guy and it gave me goosebumps. Everybody looks for that world-stopping moment in love, don't they? This man has really got to her and I really want her to find him.

Although, confidentially, I really want her and Charlie to get their act together – they're so perfect for each other but neither of them will admit it. Maybe Rom's quest will make him sit up and take notice of her at last. Either way, I just want my best friend to be happy.
